JACK AND THE BEANSTALK.

Parisians who go to Lexington tomorrow will have the opportunity of seeing the leading spectacular production of the season, "Jack and the Beanstalk," which made such a hit at the New York Casino. The writer saw the original production and unhesitatingly commends the piece as bright, beautiful and entertaining. Among the characters in the extravaganza are Jack, old King Cole, Mother Hubbard, Sinbad, Little Miss Muffett, Mary, quite contrary, the famous giant and his seven league boots, and other characters. The piece is presented by clever people and will doubtless play to large business.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" will be given at the matinee tomorrow, besides to-night and to-morrow night. Paris people can attend the matinee and return on the evening train.

Uncle Tom's Cabin will be seen at the Grand, next Wednesday night.

Olga Nethersole's newest success "Sapho" has been burlesqued at Koster & Bial's under the title "Olga Leather-sole."

The camel used in "Ben Hur" broke one of its legs the other night, and another one has been secured from the Sells Bros. & Forepaugh circuses. It was shipped to New York by express.

"THE TWO MERRY TRAMPS"

"The Two Merry Tramps," which appears at the Grand to-morrow night, was written for laughing purposes only. There is no suspicion of a plot about it, but a laugh in every line. The Lexington Herald of yesterday has the following to say of it:

"Two Merry Tramps" appeared at the theatre last night and were greeted by a packed house. More than eleven hundred paid admissions was the result of the night's business. The play is one of the ordinary knock-about musical farces and seemed to please the large audience. Several of the turns were greeted with hearty applause. Charles Hasty was distinctly good at times. Altogether the show was fairly pleasing and is about up to the run of popular price attractions. The house was one of the largest of the season and probably exceeded that of any popular price attraction this season.

A PLEASURE—We will take pleasure in showing you our line of cooking stoves and ranges.
